

Challenge Identification

To unify and synchronize different types of APC & MPC in a global integration

Area

Cross-Cutting

Problem Description

The various models, providers and technical data conditions constantly challenge the unification of the global operation. APC and MPC systems (expert systems) cannot see the full business chain; they are optimizing individual variables with no connection between them.

 Expected Results

To improve the volume of fine copper in the company

 Scope

To minimize total cost ownership